Homophones

We have already seen that homophones are words that sound the same but are spelt differently.

Do you know the different meanings of these homophones?

night

knight

whole

Conjunctions

A conjunction is a joining word that links words, phrases or parts of a sentence together.

This week, we are learning to spell the conjunctions:

because

so that

or

Using your finger, can you write one of these conjunctions on your table or the carpet?

Can you whisper a sentence using one of these conjunctions to a friend?

A night scene with a moon, stars, and a river. The background is a dark blue night sky with a yellow moon and white stars. Below the sky is a light blue river with green bushes along its banks. The entire scene is framed by a white rounded rectangle.

Here are this week's spellings to practise.
